

Dear Recruitent Team.

I would like to interest you in my candidacy. I realize that I do not meet all the requirements 100%, but I make up for it with other skills. Throughout my professional life, I have had to adapt to various technological environments and learn new things. Thanks to the nature of the technology and showbiz industry in which I worked, I had the opportunity to work with almost a thousand different teams of people, often as a supervisor. My greatest strengths are team communication and quick learning of new things, so I know that I am a candidate worth checking out.

Kind regards,

Mateusz Hryniewski
